1. Policy Statement

- 1.1. This policy will establish guidelines for the use and protection of Academic Freedom for students, staff, and community at GPRC.

2. Background

- 2.1. The creation of knowledge depends on a free and open academic environment in which the exploration of a wide range of ideas is encouraged and celebrated.
- 2.2. Academic Staff must be free to teach, conduct research, and participate in public life without fear of unreasonable professional repercussions.
- 2.3. Students must be free to explore and express a wide range of ideas and viewpoints in their coursework, research, and class discussions without fear of unreasonable academic penalty.
- 2.4. When exercising Academic Freedom, Academic Staff and Students have a responsibility to adhere to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic rigour. Academic freedom must be based on institutional integrity, and rigorous standards for enquiry, while allowing institutional autonomy to set research and educational priorities.

3. Policy Objectives

- 3.1. Encourage an academic environment where the exploration of ideas can flourish.
- 3.2. Ensure Academic Freedom is exercised ethically and responsibly by GPRC staff and students.
- 3.3. Maintain a respectful, safe, and open environment for all members of the GPRC community.

4. Scope

- 4.1. This policy affects GPRC Academic Staff and current Students.

5. Definitions

- 5.1. Academic Freedom: the freedom of Students and Academic Staff to teach, engage in scholarly activity and participate in public life without being subject to undue interference or reprisals.
- 5.2. Academic Staff: An employee covered under the Academic Staff Association Collective Agreement.
- 5.3. College or GPRC Support: Administrative, funding, or other formalized forms of support for which GPRC bears financial responsibility. Support can include, but is not limited to, the use of GPRC funds, staff time and expertise, facilities, equipment, materials, technological information, or proprietary know-how.

- 5.4. Public Life: Activities that include political engagement, advocacy work, participation in the media (including participation in media interviews, personal or professional blogs, public information sessions, etc.) as related to one's discipline of inquiry.
- 5.5. Research: an undertaking intended to extend knowledge through disciplined inquiry or systematic investigation. The production of research is part of the role of GPRC academic staff.
- 5.6. Researcher: GPRC Academic Staff or Students who engage in Research a part of their role at the College.
- 5.7. Student: any person registered in a GPRC credit course. A GPRC employee registered as a student remains an employee for the purposes of this policy.

6. Guiding Principles

- 6.1. Actions not protected by this policy include;
  - 6.1.1. Any publication or display that is likely to expose a person or a class of persons to hatred or contempt based on the protected grounds outlined in the Alberta Human Rights Act.<sup>1</sup>
  - 6.1.2. Any publication or display that includes potentially defamatory material.
  - 6.1.3. Any publication or display that includes illicit material, except in instances where such material is being used for bona fide teaching or research purposes.
  - 6.1.4. Any intentional or unintentional public divulgement of proprietary or privileged College information.
  - 6.1.5. The publication or presentation of scholarly activities that are evidenced to have been conducted in a manner inconsistent with the principles of research ethics, academic rigour, and academic integrity according to GPRC protocol.
    - 6.1.5.1. It is the responsibility of all GPRC researchers to familiarize themselves with and adhere to principles governing the responsible conduct of research at GPRC, including the Tri-Council Policy Statement: Ethical Conduct for Research Involving Humans and other relevant policies and procedures.
- 6.2. Teaching and Curriculum Development
  - 6.2.1. With the exceptions listed in item 6.1 of this policy, Academic Freedom guarantees the right of Academic Staff to develop curriculum and teach course subjects without fear of undue censure.
  - 6.2.2. Academic Staff must develop and teach curriculum within the frameworks of GPRC policies, course outlines, and requirements of Campus Alberta Quality Council (CAQC) as well as any other governing bodies to which the College is accountable.
- 6.3. Research
  - 6.3.1. With the exceptions listed in item 6.1 of this policy, GPRC shall not explicitly or implicitly censor or enact reprisals against Academic Staff or Researchers who publicize the results of Research or other Scholarly Activity.
  - 6.3.2. With the exceptions listed in item 6.1 of this policy, GPRC shall not explicitly or implicitly censor or enact reprisals against Academic Staff or Researchers who, in the course of engagement with public life, as related to their discipline of enquiry, express an unpopular or controversial opinion or otherwise challenge the status quo.
  - 6.3.3. Academic Freedom guarantees the right of Academic Staff to pursue programs of research according to their choice without institutional interference, including the free selection of topic and methodology according to the researcher's interests, strengths, and available resources.
  - 6.3.4. Selective College Support of research projects on the basis of the following criteria will not be deemed a breach of Academic Freedom:
    - 6.3.4.1. Alignment with institutional research interests and priorities.
    - 6.3.4.2. Potential to facilitate student engagement.
