Electroacoustic Ensemble

Time and Location: 2:30-4:00 PM, rm. L101 Studio A

Instructor: Rolf Boon

1. Course Description: The ensemble is an opportunity for students to showcase their acoustic and electronic works. Students' experience the process of developing and executing a large-scale multi-media performance scheduled for second term. Students who are not registered in the IDD program who would like to participate may do so with consent of the instructor.
2. Course Note: Students registered in the Interactive Digital Design Music Program require DD1421/2421.
3. The Course in Perspective: This course is the primary vehicle for students to present works created in their music technology courses and/or specifically for the production. Students are expected to demonstrate their facility with Logic, Pro—Tools, Sampling and other recording technologies. Works must be mastered on CD and may be either fully electronic or a combination of live acoustic and electronic music. Students are also required to take on responsibilities associated with the year-end production including: marketing, producing, engineering, extra musical effects, choreography, set design and professional audio.
4. Assignments: Students will meet regularly to storyboard the production and contribute ideas on thematic material and presentation. Students will also meet regularly with the instructor for consultation and direction on their work. One work of two works (duration 3-5 minutes) must be prepared for the production. Students must also participate in any ensemble works.
5. Grading: The students' grade will be determined by the following weighting:
 - A) 25% for project #1
 - B) 25% for project #2
 - C) 25% for production role
 - D) 25% for participation in class discussions(Note: Absence from three meetings will constitute a failing grade.)
6. Text: N/A
7. Additional costs: Students are expected to purchase at least 5 WORM CDs @ $15.00.
