CALENDAR DESCRIPTION: This is a critical examination of the roles and behaviour of the mass media in the political process with primary emphasis on the Canadian experience. Communications theories such as those of Innis and McLuhan, political propaganda, the mass media and elections, opinion formation, and selected Canadian communications policies are among the topics studied.

CREDIT/CONTACT HOURS: 3 credits (3-0-0)/45 hours

DELIVERY MODE(S): Lecture

OBJECTIVES: This course is based on the premise that while all of us consume information via “the media,” we generally do so without much thought about how that information is produced, who wants us to consume it, and what the larger effects, intended or otherwise may be. As such, this course should:

- Introduce you to fundamental theories about the media and its interaction with society, political institutions, and citizens.
- Provide factual information about the media, and Canadian media specifically, and put this information in a larger geopolitical & societal context.
- Give you the tools to evaluate the information you consume and understand how it affects you with a critical perspective.

You should note that this class will require significant participation, both in-class and online. Discussion of current events and media coverage of them will be a part of every class. You will need to familiarize yourself with online media, both traditional (newspapers & magazines) and social (Facebook & Twitter at a minimum). You do not necessarily need this knowledge prior to class, but you will need to be willing to engage with each other and the wider online community as the course progresses.

TRANSFERABILITY: This course has university transferability to Athabasca University, Concordia University College of Alberta, Grant MacEwan University, King’s University College, University of Alberta, University of Calgary, and the University of Lethbridge. For complete information, consult the Alberta Transfer Guide (www.transferralberta.ca).

* Grade of D or D+ may not be acceptable for transfer to other post-secondary institutions. Students are cautioned that it is their responsibility to contact the receiving institutions to ensure transferability

EVALUATIONS:

- Participation 10%
- Group Presentation.....20%
- Research Design Proposal.....20%
- Research Presentation 20%
- Research Paper..... 30%

Participation: Your participation grade will be split into two parts. The first part, worth 5%, will be awarded for completion of at least 80% of peer evaluations for Group Presentations AND Research

Presentations. For example, if there are twelve (12) group presentations and 20 research presentations scheduled, you will need to submit at least nine (9) group peer evaluations and sixteen (16) individual evaluations to receive the participation grade. This is an example only; the number of actual scheduled presentations will depend on the number of students in the class and the size of groups you choose.

For the remaining 5%, you will be required to complete 5 in-class quizzes or take-home assignments at random throughout the semester. Each assignment will be worth 1% of the participation grade.

Group Presentation: You will choose one or two partners and give a 10 – 15 minute presentation to the class, either based on a summary of assigned readings from the syllabus, or a media journal assignment. These presentations will be scheduled between Tues., Jan. 21 and Thurs., Mar. 13. More information on this assignment will be handed out in class.

Individual Research Project: For your term paper, you will conduct original media research and analysis, using the methodology of either content or discourse analysis. In our class on Tues., Jan. 21, I will present on research methodologies and approaches to media research and analysis. More information will also be given in a detailed handout on the project. This will entail three parts:

1. Research proposal (20%): This is a paper outlining your design for original media research. Due on Thurs., Feb. 13
2. Research presentation (20%): You will present the findings of your research project in class. This will be a 15 minute presentation on your research process, findings, and the conclusions you have drawn from your research to date. These will be scheduled between Mar. 18 and Apr. 10, based on the topic you are researching.
3. Research paper (30%): This will be a paper which formally outlines your research and presents your findings. Due on a date determined by Student Services during the Final Exam period. You will be required to attend class on the scheduled date and sign in on a Final Exam Sign-In Form, as per GPRC's new final exam policy.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:

Full participation in class will require demonstration that you have completed the assigned readings, as well as an active role in group work and class discussions.

Punctual submission of assignments:

- An electronic copy is due by midnight on the due date. It should be submitted via Moodle, and should be formatted as a PDF. If you do not know how to save a document as a PDF, please contact me.
- Please title your paper as follows: LASTNAMEFirstname-Assignment-PO3030W2014. (Ex. Jane Smith's paper should be saved as SMITHJane-ResearchPaper-PO3030W2014.)
- Late assignments will be docked 3% (i.e. an A becomes an A-) for each day they are late. If extenuating circumstances necessitate an extension on an assignment, you are required to speak with me AHEAD OF TIME, and appropriate paperwork (i.e. a medical note) may be required.

Classroom Conduct:

GPRC has committed to promote an environment free of harassment or discrimination where respect will be given to ethnic, cultural, religious, and lifestyle diversity, and expects individuals will conduct themselves with respect for one another. This means your behavior should exhibit respect for yourselves, each other, the instructor, and the course material. As such:

- Students are expected to arrive to class on time and prepared.
- Laptops and cellphones are permitted in class, with a few caveats.
 - Cellphones should be on silent or vibrate mode, and I expect you wait to check calls or messages until after class. If an emergency requires otherwise, I expect you to advise me at the beginning of class.
 - Laptops are to be used for class work ONLY. Students carrying out other activities will be asked to leave their laptops at home.
- Working on assignments for other courses is not permitted. Students doing so will be asked to leave the class.
- I encourage an atmosphere of positive and constructive debate. Expressing criticism or annoyance with a view expressed by another person, either through a comment, audible noise, facial expression or body language, is not acceptable, unless you are prepared to debate your position openly & respectfully in class.
- Regular attendance. If you know you are going to be absent from class, I expect you to contact me prior to class with a reason. Students who miss more than 1/3 of classes (9 or more) may be denied the opportunity to write the final exam, as stated in GPRC's Examination Policy (www.gprc.ab.ca/about/administration/policies/).

For information on key dates and other important matters, please refer to the GPRC Calendar, available www.gprc.ab.ca/programs/calendar/.

STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING:

Plagiarism and/or cheating can result in serious consequences (i.e. a grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: A Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty) and/or suspension or expulsion from the College). If I suspect plagiarism on assignments, I reserve the right to submit these to an online plagiarism detection service, as specified in Section 1.4 of the GPRC Policy on Student Misconduct: Academic and Non-academic (https://www.gprc.ab.ca/files/forms_documents/Student_Misconduct.pdf).

It is your responsibility to ensure that you fully understand what constitutes plagiarism and/or cheating. If you have any question as to what these acts involve, please refer to the Student Conduct section of the College Admission Guide at <http://www.gprc.ab.ca/programs/calendar/> or the College Policy on Student Misconduct: Academic and Non-academic at https://www.gprc.ab.ca/files/forms_documents/Student_Misconduct.pdf.
