

DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

COURSE OUTLINE – FALL 2023

PY3330 (A2): Personality Theories – 3 (3-0-0) 45 Hours for 15 Weeks

Northwestern Polytechnic acknowledges that our campuses are located on Treaty 8 territory, the ancestral and present-day home to many diverse First Nations, Metis, and Inuit people. We are grateful to work, live and learn on the traditional territory of Duncan’s First Nation, Horse Lake First Nation and Sturgeon Lake Cree Nation, who are the original caretakers of this land.

We acknowledge the history of this land, and we are thankful for the opportunity to walk together in friendship, where we will encourage and promote positive change for present and future generations.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Ali M. AL-Asadi PHONE: 780-539-2061
OFFICE: C-311B E-MAIL: aalasadi@gprc.ab.ca
OFFICE HOURS: By appointments

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION: This is an introductory survey of representative theoretical points of view and research relevant to the major problems of the study of personality.

PREREQUISITE(S)/COREQUISITE: PY2230 or permission of the instructor

REQUIRED TEXT/RESOURCE MATERIALS:

- Hergenhahn, B. R., Olson, M. H., & Cramer, K. (2003). An Introduction to Theories of Personalities (Canadian Edition). Pearson Education Canada Inc., Toronto, Ontario, Canada. The 2020 (9th American edition) of the Theories of Personality is also sufficient.
- Collection of reading materials, articles, and other resources based on Open-Sourced texts will be posted to this course’s D2L site at: <https://myclass.gprc.ab.ca/d2l/home>

DELIVERY MODE(S): On-Campus

LEARNING OUTCOMES: As a result of taking this course, students will gain the abilities to:

- Articulate fundamental knowledge and comprehension of major concepts in each personality theory.
- Discuss and explain how the principles of these personality theories explain the everyday personality characteristics and traits we see in ourselves and others,
- Identify and incorporate the elements of each personality theory to explain psychological attributes,

- Apply and evaluate knowledge of the basic elements of each theory to predict future behaviours,
- Demonstrate a basic level of understanding of various research methods used in scientific investigations of personality research and critically evaluate these methods.

TRANSFERABILITY:

Please consult the Alberta Transfer Guide for more information. You may check to ensure the transferability of this course at Alberta Transfer Guide at <http://transferalberta.alberta.ca/transfer-alberta-search/#/audienceTypeStep>

* Grade of D or D+ may not be accepted for transfer to other post-secondary institutions. Students are cautioned that it is their responsibility to contact the receiving institutions to ensure transferability.

EVALUATIONS:

Exam 1	20%
Exam 2	20%
Final Exam	30%
Paper Assignment	20%
Attendance, Class Participation, and case analysis	10%

Paper: This is a reflective and introspective essay. It would be best if you kept a daily journal of the concepts and activities that are presented and discussed in class. You must relate these activities and concepts to yourself or someone in your environment. In your writing, try to analyze behaviours, thoughts, and emotions in the context of several theories. In other words, how would Freud, Jung, Erikson, Roger, etc. view and analyze the person about whom you are writing? Basically, it is an application of the various personality theories and perspectives to yourself or a person of interest.

* Remember, all exams may include questions from lectures that reading materials may not cover.

GRADING CRITERIA:

Please note that most universities will not accept your course for transfer credit IF your grade is less than C-. Note:

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:

Each class's assigned readings and exercises should be completed before attending that class. As this course depends heavily on discussion and, at times, practice exercises and illustrations, attendance at all sessions is required and is critical to the student's success in the course. In case of illness or emergency, notify the instructor as soon as possible. If you have difficulty in this course, please contact me immediately for assistance. Please let me know if you want to discuss any aspect of the course or your aspiration.

You are accountable for delivered lectures, assigned readings, and any announcements that will be made in class occasionally. If you are unable to attend a particular class, it is your responsibility to find out what was missed. For optimal learning and readiness for class participation, you are expected to attend class regularly (no less than 80% attendance) and read the assigned chapters/topics before coming to class on the dates indicated on the timetable, except for the first session. Past course records show that class attendance is highly correlated with the final grade in the course.

If you foresee that you will be unable to write a test or exam at the scheduled time due to illness or emergency, you should notify me immediately, preferably one day in advance. A message may be left on my voice mail (780-539-2061) or e-mail (aalasadi@nwpolytech.ca) together with a phone number where you may be reached to arrange for an alternative date to write the test, if feasible. Failure to notify the instructor will result in a grade of zero for the missed tests unless proof is presented that you were physically or mentally unable to do so due to a sudden illness, emergency, or unavoidable circumstances beyond the student's control.

All students are expected to display a professional attitude and behaviour in the classroom. This includes reliability, respect for and cooperation with fellow students and the instructor, attention to fellow students' questions and the instructor's response, determination to achieve first-class work while meeting deadlines, and constructive response to criticism.

STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING:

Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated, and there will be penalties. For a more precise definition of plagiarism and its consequences, refer to the Student Rights and Responsibilities policy available at <https://www.nwpolytech.ca/about/administration/policies/index.html>.

Note: all Academic and Administrative policies are available

Additional Information

MOST IMPORTANT: Instructors reserve the right to use electronic plagiarism detection services on written assignments. Instructors also reserve the right to ban the use of any form of electronics (cell phones, Blackberries, iPods, tablets, scanning pens, electronic dictionaries, etc.) during class and exams.

Cell phones, tablets, notebooks, laptops, and other electronic devices are strictly forbidden in my classes and exams. Also, I use plagiarism and AI detection software for all written assignments and essays.

In Addition:

1. The format of each exam will be discussed in class.
2. Exam grades are final, and there is no substitute work for your poor exam grade.
3. The nature and topics of your written paper will be discussed in class
4. It is your responsibility to read each and every chapter and assigned reading (if any) and attend all lectures.
5. Lectures will not always cover the reading materials. Lectures may cover topics and include information that is not covered by your reading materials. Therefore, it is imperative that you attend every class as your exams may include materials from the lectures that are not covered by the reading materials.

6. Students are expected to display a professional attitude and behaviour. These attitudes and behaviours are many and will be discussed in class. Any violation or misconduct may result in dismissal from the class.

7. Talk to me if you have concerns or if you are experiencing difficulties that may have a negative impact on your academic performance.

IMPORTANT: Please remember this is a university course, and you are a university student.

Please keep this course information sheet for future reference.
